THE PRIVACY ACT OF 1974. Authority: Title 37, USC. Section 5726, 5727 an Title 10, USC 2634. Principal Purpose(s): Used as a shipping document for inspection and documentation to detect damage and pilferage during shipment of privately owned whicles of military members, dependents, and Department of Defense employees. Routine Uses: (1) For reflecting condition of vehicles before and after shipmen. (2) Accumulating damage information for use in determining validity of claims for damages filed by member and any third part responsibility. (3) As required by claims services for recompenent and compilation of occurate statistical data. (4) Where applicable, used as a source document for completion of DD Form 1384, Transportation Control and Movement Document. (5) Serves as a receipt to the service member from the time the vehicle is turned in for shipment until it is surrendered to the owner. (6) Serves as a jointly certified record of the condition of the vehicle at the time is is turned in for shipment and the time it is returned to the ownier. When properly executed, it also reflects the condition of the vehicle at intermediate points where custody and/or responsibility and liability for loss or damage incurred in shipment. (?) Provides basis for fixing responsibility and liability for loss or damage incurred in shipment. (8) Serves as acknowledgement of understanding and acceptance by service member of terms under which the vehicle will be transported. (9) Grants authority to place vehicle in storage under specified items and conditions. (10) Information on this form is released to carriers. Voluntary — The personal data (SSN) is disclosed automatically when the individual relinguishes a copy of the orders authorizing the shipment (these orders contains the individual's SSN). If the SSN was not available, verification of the individual's claim for reimbursement (if applicable), would take a considerably longer time to process, and errors of mistaken identity would be littely to increase since proper names are rarely unique.
